

LAYING PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

Amateur Baseball Commission to Hold Important Meeting To-Morrow Night.

A meeting of the Amateur Baseball Commission will be held to-morrow night at 8 o'clock at 238 South Cherry Street, the home of Secretary Hooper, of the commission.

The object of the meeting will be to form plans for the coming season; to perfect arrangements for the formation of a Richmond Amateur Baseball Association, and to appoint a representative who will confer with the officials in Washington and Baltimore for the purpose of adopting uniform rules for the three cities in question. Another important matter to come up for consideration is the classification of leagues and putting the several teams making application for admission into the protected folds in their proper class.

Julian Hill, who at a former meeting of the commission was unanimously elected president, has not yet specified that he will accept the office, but those who have spoken with him in regard to the matter, state that in all probability he will agree to serve. The fact that Mr. Hill is a young man, fond of the great game, and anxious to lead in an effort to clean up the sports will make him almost a sure thing in the conduct of the affairs of the commission.

From the number of applications received by Secretary Hooper, it looks as if there will be about six leagues under the commission. The plan of having an eight club league, adopted last year, does not meet with popular favor and next season no league will have more than six teams, while no league with less than four teams will be admitted as a league. Undoubtedly prospects are bright for even a better season than last year. The inter-city series between Richmond, Washington and Baltimore will be one of the attractions of the post-season games.

Atlanta has written stating that the amateurs of that city have organized and would like to make the fight a war of attrition. In view of the tremendous travel involved, it is not likely that Atlantics can be accommodated, but it is a big boost for organized amateur baseball that the plan so successfully carried out in Richmond and Washington has met with favor in the far South.

Immediately after the meeting Monday night complete details of the plans of the local organization will be made public, together with a list of the leagues and the teams composing each league.

Bowling

By WHIT WHITMAN.

The bowlers continue to show class in the Richmond Bowling Association, as each night they are putting up record scores. The past week has been a record breaker, and many players have changed places in the percentage column.

The Times-Dispatch and the Alico were the heroes for the week, both teams having captured all three games from their opponents. Captain Gallagher went into the week by putting up 624 for the series, taking the honor from Cobean, with 618. These two bowlers are showing great class this season. Cobean came off, however, for the week for high score at 232.

The Richmond bowling team will leave here next Friday to play its first intercity series with Norfolk, at Norfolk and local bowlers are greatly interested in this match. Arrangements are being made at the Newport to give the result by wire.

Secretary Montague, of the Richmond Bowling Association, is now arranging the second series with the crack Washington, D. C. team, which will be played here in the near future.

The following effusion from the pen of "Unknown" will prove interesting: It is rumored that Captain Delaney, of "Wade" team, has been "bumped" from "Cook" to "Bollinger." But if he "goes" "Leary" and goes to "Spilling" all the "Gordon" and "Sherry" "Leary" soon he will "O'Brien" more than he can "Borrow." No also "Reid" in the "Book" (er) that "Bixby" had "right" and ran "Overmann" and just "Glaze" (d) "Smiths" "Go" team, and when he started for "Kennedy" "Van Aman" said, "Davis" not here.

"Briggs" started a "quarrel" with "Handley" and broke his "derby" for which "Hiller" ran the "Chapin," but President Williams sent for Secretary Montague to "Ball" (er) out.

When asked about the affair "Mc" said he didn't care a "Whit."

Times-Dispatch League.

The Times-Dispatch Bowling League, composed of the employees of the mechanical departments of The Times-Dispatch, is also making a great showing, as last week's games far exceeded any yet played. The players are making some very good scores. Great interest is taken in this league, and the rivalry among the teams is very strong. Following is the individual standing of the teams and players, with the schedule for the week:

BILL BASS LASTS THREE MINUTES

Philadelphia, November 18.—It took less than three minutes for Carl Morris, of Oklahoma, to show his supremacy over Bill Bass, of Virginia, to-night at the National Athletic Club. After sparring a few moments Morris cut loose and swung right and left to Bass's body and head, and in less than two minutes the Virginian was flat on his back and the referee stopped the bout. Bass was completely outclassed. Neither man showed any form.

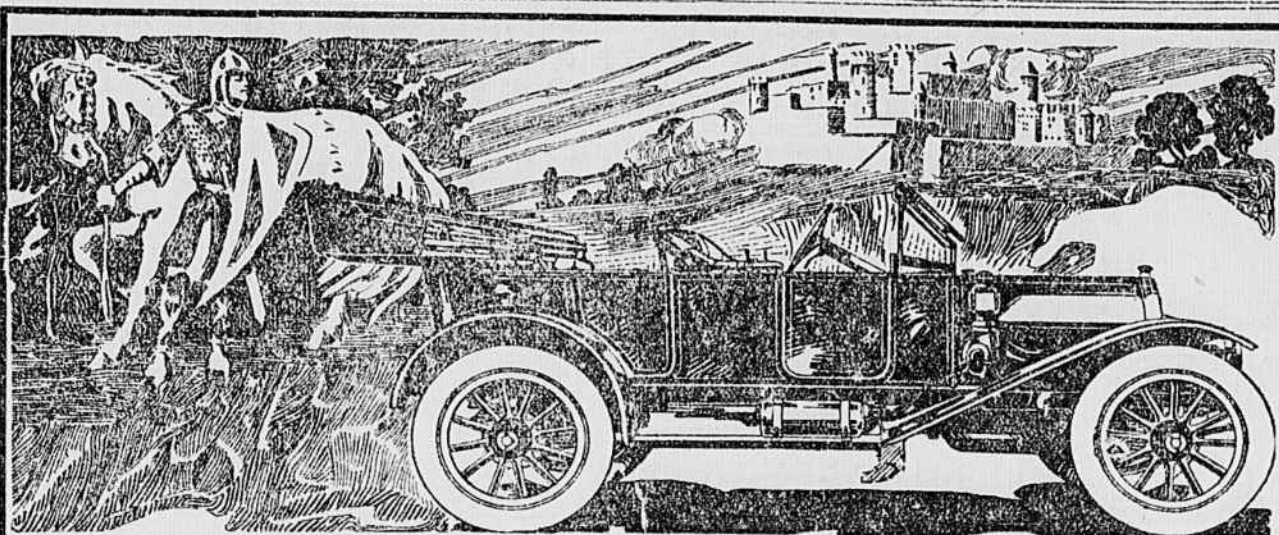

To Play in Norfolk.

The Richmond bowling team will leave Richmond at 3 P. M. Wednesday, November 22, to play the first intercity series with the Norfolk aggregation at Norfolk, and a great game is looked for, as the local bowlers are greatly interested in the coming match, and a large crowd of rooters claim to have a strong line-up. The following is the line-up of the Richmond team, the match being for five games:

Spilling, captain; Whitman, Blair, Hundley, Bailey, Sutterlin, Bliley, etc.

Wins on Clever Play.

Fayetteville, N. C., November 18.—Superior team work enabled Raleigh High School to defeat Donaldson Military School 25 to 13 this afternoon. In the last minute of play Crinkley lay down near the side line until the ball was snapped, leaped up to receive a forward pass from Jeff, eluded four tacklers, and ran half the length of the field for a touchdown.

Paige-Detroit Cars are Built for Service Their First Cost is Practically Last Cost

They possess more in actual value, quality, material and workmanship than any other automobile selling for $1200 or less.

They are constructed in a factory whose policy admits of no deviation in this respect.

Only the best materials are used.

Only the most accurate workmanship is tolerated.

Every car is thoroughly inspected and tested under the personal supervision of our best experts.

The limited output is 5000 cars for the 1912 season—the product is uniformly good, and the cars are guaranteed for one year by a company, the personnel of which is unequalled in the automobile industry.

Paige cars have one horse-power for every 60 to 65 pounds of weight, while most cars are burdened with from 70 to 80 pounds, or even more.

This makes them exceptionally good hill climbers, and able to take the roughest roads with ease.

BUSY SESSION IS IN PROSPECT

Everything on Capitol Hill Ready for Convening of Congress.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Washington, D. C., November 18.—Two weeks from Monday, exactly at noon, Vice-President Sherman, in the Senate, and Speaker Champ Clark, in the House, will rap their respective bodies to order for what will probably be one of the most interesting sessions of Congress in the country's history. There is much to make it so. "Trust busting" will continue at the hands of the special investigating committees—that is, they will do all they can to bring about reforms; the nation's currency laws are to be overhauled; the tariff must necessarily consume many weeks of discussion; the political future of both the Democratic and Republican parties will be a topic for private and public conferences, and in addition to this there will be the usual array of appropriation bills, public and private, while will soon end their way to the calendar unless the Democratic plan ing knife works overtime.

Up on Capitol Hill everything is in apple order for the return of the nation's lawmakers—that is, those who have not already found their way back to Washington, for there are already many of them here, especially members of special investigating committees and those from the far West. There is little more to do to start the first regular session of the Sixty-second Congress in good running order. Since the extra session ended the latter part of August there has been a general overhauling at the Capitol.

Many committees' rooms have been changed, here and there conveniences of one kind and another have been added, and, best of all, the House resolute, where the Solons oppose their appetites, has been rebuilt from bottom to top. Hereafter there will be no overcrowding when the luncheon hour rolls round. There will be no jostling and pushing by those desiring seats; on the contrary, any of room has been made for every one who has the coin and certainly no one need go hungry for lack of room.

For a month past Superintendent Elliott Woods, the man who is charged with the responsibility of keeping the big Capitol building in good order—keeping it cool in summer and warm and pleasant when the icy blasts of winter blow outside—has been busily at work preparing for the coming of House and Senate members. Nothing gives Mr. Woods more pleasure than to meet the returning Congressmen at the beginning of each new session, and this time will be no exception to the rule. Besides rearranging the cafe in the House and certain other things, nothing shall be lacking when the members take their seats just two weeks hence.

In addition to this Joe Sinnott, the House doorman, and S. Jackson, sergeant-at-arms, have been as busy as bees getting everything in rights for the returning members.

Another busy man is the new editor of the congressional directory, J. B. Bell, of South Carolina, who was chosen for the position last summer. Mr. Bell is busily engaged securing the data to go in the next directory, which will come out about December 1, and will contain correct information about the Congressmen and many of the prominent department officials, but generally looking after the details of this valuable book.

All these preparations indicate that the "crisis" session is at hand, and that it will be a most important one in many ways. Speculation is keen as to how long it may last, some declaring that in no event will it end before the nominating conventions of the Democratic and Republican parties are held.

Some even go further and take the position that if the Democrats go into a general revision of the tariff they may not stop there, but that they may continue a considerable time after the conventions have been held. However, this may be one thing is certain: the country will not see a spiritless and uninteresting session during the next six months. Everything points to a period of activity and a discussion and overhauling of many issues of vital interest to the people generally.

P. H. McG.

wrote in his book, "From the brief manner in which I have dealt with the Discovery it will be seen that the initial labors of the ship committee and the high intelligence of Mr. W. E. Smith had provided us with the finest vessel ever built for exploring purposes."
